Coming in December

Editor’s Choice
Predicting Extubation Outcome With Cough Peak Flow

Original Research
RT-Managed Arterial Catheter Insertion in a Community Hospital

Volume Guarantee Ventilation in Preterm Infants

NIV Protocol in Hospitalized Children With Acute Respiratory Failure

Negative Pressure Ventilation in Pediatric Acute Respiratory Failure

Role of Integrated Pulmonary Index in Identifying Extubation Failure

Factors Associated With Reintubation Within 14 d After Ventilator Liberation

Diaphragmatic Thickness Fraction in High-Risk Subjects With COPD

Diaphragm Excursion During Reflexive Citric Acid Cough Test With Stroke

A Low-Pressure Oxygen Storage System in Low Resource Settings

Maximal Voluntary Ventilation 2,240 m Above Sea Level

Narrative Review
Speaking Valves in Children With Tracheostomy Tubes

33rd Philip Kittredge Memorial Lecture
Value of the RT: Where Is the Evidence?

Editorials
Strong Cough: On the Road to Extubation or Just a Dead End?
The First Necessity of Progress
Optimizing Mechanical Ventilation in the NICU

Faculty Position
Respiratory Therapy Program
Clinical and Digital Health Sciences Department
Augusta University
Augusta, GA

General Duties and Responsibilities
Augusta University, formerly known as The Medical College of Georgia, invites applications for a faculty position in the Bachelor of Science Respiratory Therapy Program housed in the Department of Clinical and Digital Health Sciences. The primary duties and responsibilities of this position include teaching in the classroom, online, laboratory and 12-hour clinical rotations. Additional responsibilities include service and recruitment activities. The MHS in Respiratory Care is integral to the future planning for the program. This is a 12-month appointment. Rank will be commensurate with education and experience.

Qualifications
Minimum qualifications at the time of employment include an earned Master’s degree, the RRT credential, eligible for Georgia RCP license, and proven experience as a Registered Respiratory Therapist with current clinical experience in ICU. Advanced credentials, particularly in neonatal/pediatrics, and experience in classroom, laboratory, or clinical instruction in a program or hospital setting are desirable.

The Department
The Department of Clinical and Digital Health Sciences (CDHS) has recently attracted faculty with public health research interests, has increased the number of externally funded projects in public health, and has been successful in merging health technology solutions with research initiatives. The CDHS department offers undergraduate programs in Health Information Administration, Respiratory Therapy, and Health Services. Masters degrees are offered in Public Health and Clinical Nutrition with a Dietetic Internship. Department faculty participate in the PhD program in Allied Health Sciences offered by the college.

Visit us at http://www.augusta.edu/alliedhealth/cdhs/

Equal Employment Opportunity
Augusta University is an equal employment, equal access, and equal educational opportunity and affirmative action institution. It is the policy of the University to recruit, hire, train, promote and educate persons without regard to age, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation or veteran status. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.

Conditions of Employment
All candidates are required to successfully pass a Background Check review. The final candidate may be subject to a (pre-employment) physical, drug screen, and/or credit check and will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree in the form of an original transcript. Those candidates trained by a foreign institution will also be required to provide an educational/credential evaluation. Augusta University is a tobacco free environment and the use of any tobacco products on any part of the campus, both inside and outside, is strictly prohibited.

The search process is Chaired by:
Andrew J. Mazzoli, Ph.D, RRT, CPFT
1120 15th Street, EC 4318
Augusta, GA 30912
Phone: 706-721-2939
Email: amazzoli@augusta.edu

Review of applications will start on November 15, 2017 and will continue until position is filled.